

Famous Mathematicians

~

Kepler

This is part of the Famous Mathematicians Project pages. Use these pages to complete a research project.

You might choose to use all or just some of the pages in this project pack. You can also print more than one of each page if you have too much information to fit on one page.

Use the internet and library to find information. At the end of the pack is a bibliography guide for you to quote your sources.

When your research is finished you need to decide how to present your information. You might like to write a blog post, create a newspaper or magazine article, make a book or e-book, a slide show or power-point presentation or maybe you would like to do a podcast. There are so many different and creative ways to present information. What will you choose?

Enjoy learning about famous mathematicians and have fun!
