

OCTOBER

Copy

"The heavier-scented white-blossomed plants, such as the white-beards and logania, are almost over, but the real bush-sweet aromatic scents have taken their place. Up on the highlands there is a perfume which, if you met it in the farthest corner of the earth, would carry you straight back to Sydney on a sunny day." ~ Amy Mack

TO DO

- Watch for birds feeding their babies.
- Find a dandelion.
- Look for bats at night.
- Search for dragonflies.
- Look in ponds for tadpoles
- Listen for frogs.
- Track sunrise and sunset.
- Catch a butterfly.

WRITE ABOUT ↓

Nesting birds, spring flowers

buttercups
white clover
jacaranda flowers
tall sunflowers
rice flowers
creeping pea
crinum lilies
rushes

Some say dandelions are weeds
But a weed is just a name for a flower that is wild and free ~

Explore ↓
wetlands,
bushland,
beaches,
grassland
& urban areas

LOOK FOR ↓

"There is so much in the world for us all if we only have the eyes to see it." ~ L M Montgomery